VII. 写作(Writing)

A) One possible version:

One day, a man came across a woman who was struggling with a heavy package. It was half in and half out of her car. He offered to help her. They tried to move it together, but did not make any progress. They stopped several times for rests and then continued. Then the man said there was no way to get the package out of the car. After hearing this, the woman told the man she actually wanted to get the package into the car, not out of it. They finally knew what the problem was.

B) One possible version:

Is it better to sit at the front of the classroom or at the back? Different students will have different opinions, but for my part, I prefer to sit at the front of the classroom.

As an old Chinese saying goes: "No pressure, no motivation." Sitting at the front of the classroom puts some pressure on me. This helps me concentrate on what the teacher says and writes.

On the other hand, if I sit at the back of the classroom, I may not listen to the teacher so carefully. What's worse, sometimes I won't be able to hear the teacher or see clearly what he / she writes on the blackboard. As a result, I might lose interest in my work.

Overall, my opinion is that sitting at the front of the classroom is better for my studies.

2007 年全国中学生英语能力竞赛(NEPCS)初赛 高一年级组试题听力部分录音原文

Part I. Responses

Listen to the following questions and choose the best response to each one. Each question will be read only once.

1. You look unhappy. What's the problem?
2. Christmas is coming. Do you have any plans for your holiday?
3. I want to go to New York but I'm not sure of the best way to get there. Can you help me?
4. It's a beautiful evening, Tom. Why don't we go out for a walk?
5. The new supermarket opened last Saturday. Have you been there, Mr Salt?

Part II. Dialogues

A) Listen to the following mini-dialogues and choose the best answer or picture for each question. Each dialogue and question will be read twice.

6. M: Can I help you?

W: I'd like a box of chocolates, please. How much are these?

M: Ten pounds. These are particularly good chocolates.

W: OK, I'll take them.

Q: What does the woman buy?

7. W: Could you help me take this bag to my room, please?

M: Sorry, what did you say?

W: I asked if you could take this for me.

M: Yes, of course.

Q: What does the woman want the man to do?

8. M: Hello. Is Mr Davidson here, please? This is Lin Tao speaking. We met in Beijing.

W: I'm sorry he is on holiday in Paris this week. Would you like to leave a message?

M: Yes. Please tell him to give me a call before I leave London for New York.

Q: Where is Mr Davidson now?

9. W: Why aren't you going to your classes?

M: Because they're so boring. I would go if they were more interesting. Anyway, I always get bad marks.

W: Well, that's not surprising. If you spent less time playing computer games and worked harder, you wouldn't have so many problems.

Q: Why does the boy get low marks?

10. M: Tell me about your mother. What does she look like?

W: Well, she's quite elderly now. She's of medium height, and has short hair. She's still quite attractive, I think. What else can I say? Oh, well, you can see for yourself in an hour.

M: Great! I'm looking forward to meeting her.

Q: What does the girl's mother look like?

B) Listen to the following dialogues and choose the best answer or picture for each question. The dialogues will be read twice.

Dialogue One

M: Good afternoon.

W: Good afternoon. Can I help you?

M: Have you got any beds for tonight?

W: Yes, I think so. How long would you like to stay?

M: Just two nights.

W: OK. One night costs £65 for a single room.

M: Is it far from the hotel to the centre of Canterbury?

W: Yes, it's ten kilometres.

M: Is there a bus service?

W: Yes, it takes about fifteen minutes. There's a bus every hour.

M: When does the last bus leave the city centre?

W: I think it leaves at 9 o'clock in the evening.

M: What time do you close the bar in the evenings?

W: 11 pm.

M: And the last question, are you serving dinner tonight?

W: Yes, we're serving dinner until 8 o'clock. Breakfast starts at 7:30.

M: OK, thank you very much.

Dialogue Two

M: Where is the sports club? Is it near here?

W: Yes! It's next to the chocolate factory.

M: Oh, I think I know where that is. So when can children use the club? I mean, which days?

W: Well, it's open for everyone from Friday to Tuesday, but it's closed on Wednesdays and Thursdays.

M: Oh. That's very good. They'd like to use it at the weekend. And what are the opening hours?

W: It opens at 9 am. Sorry, 9:15 and it closes every night at 10:30.

M: Excellent!

W: Anything else?

M: Yes, there's one thing. What's the name of the club?

W: It's the Hurley Sports Club. H-U-R-L-E-Y. The same as the road.

M: Right, thanks. And have you got their telephone number?

W: Mmmm. Let me see. Oh, yes. Here it is. It's 400-3197.

M: Thanks very much.

W: That's OK. Perhaps our children will meet at the club.

Part III. Passages

Passage A

Listen to the following material and choose the best answer to each question. The material will be read twice.

M: As you all know, Tom's been working here for many years. You're also all very aware that he wouldn't want a big party when he leaves. However, I'm sure you'll agree that we must do something! When he leaves next month, I want him to go out with a bang, with something that he's going to really remember and shows him the way we all feel about how good he's been to work with. So, if anyone's got any suggestions about a suitable location, what to include on the menu, besides his beloved whisky, and, of course, gift ideas, please come and have a word with me in the next day or two. Oh, and if there are any volunteers to take on the organising, I'd be delighted to hear from them too.

Passage B

Listen to the following material and fill in the missing information in the numbered spaces. The material will be read twice.
